Re: Novak v. Google Inc, et al. No. CV 02 5164

Dear Dave and John

How do you explain to your client that your huge firm by its lead partner(s) lost not only your rule 12 motion against a pro se litigant last year, but also again a simple motion to dismiss with prejudice.

In my opinion you did your client a grave disservice, you could have settled all claims at this point for less money than they will spend in defending the new suit down the road.

Bob
